

Congo Troops on Rampage in Small Town

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Congo soldiers, apparently bored with waiting for the start of a military offensive, rampaged through the town of Lisala looting property and molesting women, the United Nations reported today.

A Malayan officer of the small U. N. contingent in the town tried to contact the local district commissioner but the Congolese soldiers stopped him from getting to the commissioner's office.

The civilian population gathered together Thursday for an angry counter demonstration and marched through the town, threatening to attack the soldiers.

The situation appeared to have quieted by nightfall.

Lisala lies in the eastern area of Equatorial Province, where the Leopoldville army commander, Gen. Joseph Mobutu, has gathered soldiers for an invasion of Lumbumba Oriental Province.

The U. N. military commander, Gen. Sean McKeown of Ireland, conferred with Mobutu Tuesday but told newsmen he had been unable to secure firm pledges that Mobutu would not attack.

The U. N. spokesman quoted unconfirmed reports that detachments of Lumbumba soldiers had penetrated into Kasai Province and reached the vicinity of Luluabourg, the provincial capital. Kasai is nominally under control of the Leopoldville regime, but its population is strongly pro-Lumbumba.

Activity in Legislature on Thursday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus is expected to sign in the next few days a bill that will repeal the so-called free electors law of 1959 and put the names of presidential candidates back on the Arkansas general election ballots.

The bill cleared the House yesterday by an 87-0 vote. It had passed the Senate earlier and now goes to Faubus for final action.

A number of other southern states passed similar laws, threatening the national Democratic Party with a bolt if the presidential candidate didn't agree with the South on civil rights issues.

The candidate — President Kennedy — didn't agree and Mississippi bolted, along with some Tennessee electors, but Arkansas' eight electors remained ever faithfully Democratic.

Actually the bill means nothing. The Constitution, in setting up the electoral college, does not force electors to vote in the college for the man who got the largest popular vote. The law passed in Arkansas merely reiterated that the state could bolt.

Faubus is expected to sign the repealer. He received considerable criticism for supporting the bill. Opponents said he had disfranchised Arkansas voters. The bill provided that names of free electors be placed on the ballot, and the candidates' names left off.

The House convened at 9:30 a. m. today, and scheduled adjournment for 11 to allow representatives to go to Hot Springs for a day at the races and a banquet at the Oaklawn Jockey Club. The Senate will go to the races next week. It convened at 10 a. m. today.

The Arkansas House Thursday passed an $83,100,000 annual appropriation for the state Highway Department. There was only one dissenting vote, that of Clark Rep. J. Hugh Lookadoo, whose bill to raise the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour was beaten earlier this week.

"They want to raise everybody's salary except the ones who have their hands on the shovels doing the work," Lookadoo said.

Greene Rep. Claude F. Collier gave notice of reconsideration, but gave no reason for his action. This means the bill may come up again.

Lookadoo objected to proposed pay increases in 1,900 of the department's 2,199 positions.

The Arkansas Senate Thursday defeated a bill to set up a commission to regulate Arkansas automobile dealers. It was the third time the Senators had turned thumbs down on such measures.

The bill, which passed the House, would set up a 7-member Motor Vehicle Commission to be appointed by the governor. Manufacturers, distributors and dealers would be charged annual fees with proceeds used for expenses of the commission and enforcement of regulations for fair business practices.

An opponent, Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock, said the bill actually was intended to control competition, and he added that it would result in price increases.

The vote was 16 for and 7 against, but 12 members abstained and 18 votes were necessary for passage. Sen. John D. Eldridge of Augusta said he would

Free Elector Law Repealed by House

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The so-called free electors law of 1959 was repealed by the Arkansas House today. It voted 87-0 to put names of presidential candidates back on the general election ballots.

The vote came on a Senate bill which now goes to Gov. Orval E. Faubus. Faubus is expected to sign it.

Woodruff County Rep. Jack Oakes, sponsor of the measure, said the bill would not eliminate the freedom of electors to cast their votes for a candidate other than the one named on the ballot. Oakes said the electors were unpunished by constitutional provision and that the 1959 bill was just "window-dressing."

The legislature adopted the 1959 bill under an anti-integration mantle. Sponsors pointed out that southern states could use unpunished electors to bargain for concessions from presidential candidates.

Such a move failed in last fall's election. Arkansas went for President Kennedy.

Sen. Clarence E. Bell of Parkin, a school superintendent, charged that a bill to remove organizational employees from the system had been "well greased with the most potent lubricant ever concocted in the political laboratories in this state."

He referred to a bill by Sen. Douglas Bradley of Jonesboro which would remove from the Retirement System employees of the Arkansas Education Association, Arkansas Teachers Association, state Education Department and the Teacher Retirement System.

The state employees would be transferred to the regular state retirement system, except for those who had been teachers.

Bell's outburst came over an amendment by Bradley to provide that Education Department and Teacher Retirement employees, including Education Commissioner Arch Ford and Teacher Retirement Director Hoyte Pyle, would get all the benefits under the state retirement system which they had accumulated under the teacher program.

Bell said, "Some innocent people will suffer the loss of their life savings in their equity in the Teacher Retirement System if this is passed."

Sen. Melvin Chambers of Magnolia said the bill "leaves out somebody that stirs up and foments trouble in every meeting he goes to." He told newsmen later he referred to Forrest Rozell, AEA executive secretary.

Bell said that originally the bill would have removed about 200 persons from the Teacher Retirement System but "the number is now down to about 12 so the bill will probably pass."

The Senate adopted Bradley's amendment today.

Flights Resumed at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Thirty-two American Airlines employees returned to work today after a 72-hour layoff brought on by a strike of flight engineers.

Flights in and out of Little Rock, cancelled because of the strike, resumed today after flight engineers returned to work.

Board Set Up to Study Air Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today created an emergency board to investigate the dispute between Northwest Airlines and its striking flight engineers.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, quoted Francis A. O'Neill, chairman of the National Mediation Board, as saying Kennedy's action requires the engineers to return to work.

Salinger said about 200 flight engineers are on strike but this has put a total of between 5,000 and 6,000 Northwest Airlines employees out of work.

The dispute is separate from the wildcat walkout of engineers which until today had other big trunk airlines shut down for a week. A different union is involved.

The striking Northwest engineers are members of the International Association of Machinists. Those on the other airlines, most of whom went back to work today, are represented by the Flight Engineers International Association.

The White House said the dispute which touched off the Northwest strike deals with wages and proposed changes in work regulations.

Mumps and measles were reported in some evacuation centers in southern Mississippi but it was not believed to be a serious outbreak.

At least three National Guard units are engaged in flood rescue work in Alabama. Another unit was on a standby basis.

Evacuation continued along the Coosa River in East Alabama where several hundred families were displaced.

At Montgomery the rampaging Alabama River was expected to surge 15 feet above flood stage Saturday.

Flooding halted barge traffic on the busy Warrior-Tombigbee Waterway in western Alabama. Most locks along the system were under water.

Flooding continued on several rivers and streams in Georgia. The Oostanaula River rose three feet above flood stage at Rome, Ga. Some city streets and lowlands flooded and several families were evacuated.

The Oconee River spilled more than a foot of water on portions of the University of Georgia campus at Athens.

In most areas of south Alabama rivers carrying off the heavy rain-fall were expected to rise 6 to 15 or more feet above flood stage today and Saturday.

Map-up operations were in full swing in the Birmingham area, where 15 to 16 inches of rain fell between last Friday and Wednesday night.

Snow Falling in N. Arkansas, Rain Forecast

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow began falling in northwest Arkansas today, on the anniversary of a later-winter snowfall which covered most of that corner of the state for several weeks last year.

Today's snow had not begun accumulating by noon and the U. S. Weather Bureau in Little Rock said the outlook was for only a light fall. It forecast occasional rain or snow through Saturday.

The worst snowstorm of last winter began a year ago Thursday. Fresh storms added to that snow and before the winter blast ended the Harrison area had 32 inches on the ground.

A forecast of scattered showers for today held little more than nuisance value for water-logged Southerners. Floods and the threat of floods remained serious in the lower reaches of Gulf Coast states as waters from six straight days of rain rushed southward.

Rescue operations are in full swing at Hattiesburg, Miss., where the Leaf River rose nine feet past the flood stage. More than 5,000 persons were displaced by high waters. Two children drowned there when a rescue boat capsized.

Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi viewed the flooded area Thursday and planned another trip today to prepare a request for federal disaster aid.

Mumps and measles were reported in some evacuation centers in southern Mississippi but it was not believed to be a serious outbreak.

Van Dalsem Holds Show on Weight Bill

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem staged a filibuster today to keep a truck weight bill from coming to a vote in the Arkansas House.

Van Dalsem took the floor on a point of personal privilege and talked until Speaker John P. Bell adjourned the House 25 minutes later. He could have talked an hour.

The insult which got Van Dalsem on the floor was delivered by Pulaski County Rep. J. H. Cottrell and it was part of a scheme to sidetrack the truck weight bill.

Cottrell earlier had succeeded in getting another bill concerning bank teller windows made a special order of business to head off the possibility that the truck weight bill might come to a vote.

Van Dalsem demanded that the lengthy bill be read in its entirety and Cottrell accused him of being mad at his banker.

Van Dalsem stormed good naturedly to the microphone, crying, "I've been insulted. My banker is my cousin. I wouldn't do anything to hurt him."

Most of Van Dalsem's speech defending himself against the alleged insult was directed at the truck weight bill, which would increase maximum weight for trucks from 64,500 pounds to 73,200 pounds.

Each time a proponent of the truck bill objected that Van Dalsem was engaged in dilatory tactics, Van Dalsem returned to arguing that he had been insulted.

Sebastian County Rep. Johnny Boatwright remarked, "I don't think it's possible to insult Paul Van Dalsem."

"I'm easy to insult," Van Dalsem declared. "This truck bill insulted me before the gentleman from Pulaski County did."

At one point, someone yelled that Van Dalsem and Cottrell were cousins.

"That's not true," Van Dalsem replied. "He's my wife's cousin and I don't recognize my wife's relatives when I'm mad."

The truck bill probably will be delayed now until Tuesday, the next day set aside by the House for Senate business. The bill passed the Senate two weeks ago and Van Dalsem has worked vigorously against it since that time.

Bethell adjourned the House at 10:55 so House members could catch buses to Hot Springs for Legislative Day at the Oaklawn Park race track.

Before the mock dispute erupted, the House passed a Senate bill to permit investment of Teacher Retirement reserve funds in industrial bonds.

House bills to prohibit removal of gravel from trout fishing beds and to permit traffic offenders to post bond with the arresting officer in certain cases were passed.

A minimum wage bill was introduced in the House today by

Jap Students in Apology to Hagerty

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—An apology for the anti-American riots in Tokyo has been made to former White House press secretary James C. Hagerty by four of the students who participated in the demonstrations.

The outbreak led to cancellation of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's scheduled visit to Japan, Hagerty, who was in Japan arranging things for Eisenhower, was mobbed at a Tokyo airport and was rescued by helicopter.

One of the four Japanese students, Yoneto Iwanaga of Waseda University, said Thursday night: "On behalf of the Japanese students, I want to apologize to the American nation for the division between our two countries and the serious damage to the unity of the free world caused by the demonstrations we led last June which prevented your President Eisenhower from visiting Japan."

Hagerty was asked by a newsman if he planned to relay the apology to Eisenhower who is in California. He said he did not. "I guess he'll read it in the papers," he added.

The apology was tied in with the Moral Re-Armament movement, which is sponsoring a world tour of a play, "The Tiger," written, produced and acted by students who participated in the riots. The drama deals with Moral Re-Armament and includes a snake dance depicting the Tokyo riots.

A troupe of 50 presented the play Thursday night before a capacity audience of 500 at the Westchester County Center.

Hagerty's reply to the apology was that the drama and its message were "all the apology that I or the people of the United States could want."

The Moral Re-Armament movement advocates the application of stern moral principles as the solution of world problems.

Body of Second Miner Recovered

KITANNING, Pa. (AP)—Rescue teams early today dug out the body of the second of two coal miners killed in a cave-in at the Wallwork mine near Kittanning, about 35 miles northeast of Pittsburgh.

Rescuers worked for about 12 hours before reaching the body of William Titus, 38. About three hours before they found the body of Paul Bisch, 40.

The mine roof caved-in Thursday afternoon as the two men worked about a mile and a half inside the mine. A third miner said he left the scene shortly before the roof fell.

The two deaths made a total of four from mine mishaps in western Pennsylvania in 24 hours. A cave-in on Wednesday at U. S. Steel Corp. Robena No. 3 mine near Carmichaels, Greene County, also killed two workers.

Group Vows to Fight for More State Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Education Association today rejected a proposed compromise on revision of the Teacher Retirement System. It vowed to continue its fight for a state contribution larger than that wanted by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The AEA said acceptance of the compromise would have been "unconditional surrender" and would have created a crisis in the Teacher Retirement System in two years.

Faubus said Thursday that he had approved the proposal, which he said would end the dispute for the time being.

The proposal called for the state to contribute $3.7 million to the Retirement System in the next fiscal year and $3.9 million the following year. These flat contributions would be in lieu of a percentage contribution.

Faubus originally proposed limiting state participation to 5 per cent of teacher's salaries, about $3 million a year at present. The AEA wants the state to contribute 9.72 per cent, nearly $7 million.

Bills embodying both plans are pending in the House.

A five-paragraph statement issued over the signature of John A. Trice of Pine Bluff, chairman of the AEA legislative committee, and R. B. Chitwood of Lake Village, chairman of the AEA retirement committee, announced the rejection.

The statement said the proposed compromise was advanced by Faubus' supporters.

The statement said the proposal would mean approximately $2 million a year less than the amount which an actuary had said was needed.

An AEA spokesman said the organization's position would continue to be determined on one point: "Will the proposal impair the financial soundness of the Teacher Retirement System or

Trial Delayed on Account of a Death

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—The murder trial of Chester (Rocky) Weger, accused of killing three women at Starved Rock State Park, has been halted by the sudden death of a juror's husband.

Circuit Court Judge Leonard Hoffman Thursday night postponed proceedings until Monday after learning of the death of Ralph Rinker, farmer and husband of Amy E. Rinker, 68.

Prosecution and defense attorneys agreed Mrs. Rinker should attend funeral services for her husband, provided she does not discuss the trial while separated from the other 11 jurors.

Weger's attorney has told the jury that Weger's alibi will be his main defense. The state is seeking the death penalty for Weger, 21, on a charge of murdering Lillian Oetting, 50.

Weger contends he was tending a stoker, writing letters and playing the jukebox in the basement of the park lodge on the wintry afternoon the women were beaten to death in a lonely canyon about two miles away.

The state contends that Weger, a kitchen helper at the lodge at the time of the March 14 slaying, killed the women during a robbery attempt. The other victims were Frances Murphy, 47, and Mildred Lindquist, 50. All were from Riverside, a fashionable Chicago suburb.

Why would anyone resort to crime when there are so many legal ways of being dishonest?

seek reconsideration.

Two congressional redistricting plans were introduced in the House Thursday. Both are based on the hope that Arkansas will lose only one congressman instead of two.

One of the new plans is sponsored by Cleveland Rep. Raymond Mays, who introduced the four-district plan adopted by the House earlier this session. The other is sponsored by the Jefferson County delegation, which opposes the first Mays plan.

The new plans were introduced in the hope that Congress adds to its membership and deletes only one Arkansas seat as a result of population loss.

Mays' new plan would split the 5th District and put Pulaski County in the southeast Arkansas district. The Jefferson County delegation would split the Fifth District and put Pulaski County in the Second District, leaving Rep.
Dale Alford to run against Rep.
Wilbur Mills.

Also introduced in the House Thursday was a bill to require out-of-state insurance companies to invest 75 per cent of the cash reserve for policies issued to Arkansans in Arkansas securities.
Rep. W. R. Stephens of Grant County, whose holdings include an Arkansas insurance company, said the bill would benefit the state's economy by bringing in out-of-state capital.

The Senate passed a bill to forbid use of fireworks in Arkansas except June 20 and July 10 and Dec. 10 and Jan. 5. It also would regulate sale, distribution and use of fireworks. The bill now goes to the House.

The House turned down an invitation to visit the campus of Arkansas AM&N College for Negroes in Pine Bluff. Acting Speaker Glenn Walther of Pulaski County told AM&N officials that the House had only 10 days left to work and asked them to make another invitation at the next legislative session.

The Senate Thursday defeated an Insurance Department proposal that out of state property, casualty and surety insurance companies be required to post $50,000 bonds each for protection of Arkansas creditors and policy holders.

A bill to eliminate a group of non-teaching personnel from the Teacher Retirement System was

John County Rep. Virgil P. Cobb.
The bill would set a minimum of 75 cents per hour. It is a duplicate of a bill by Cobb which the House defeated in 1959.

Arkansas voters rejected an initiated minimum wage proposal in last November's general election.

Group Vows to endanger the payment of retirement benefits at the level provided in the plan approved by members of the AEA?

The statement said that one compromise suggested by a joint study committee already had been agreed to: That the formula for determining benefits after July 1, 1961, be reduced from 1 1/2 per cent to 1 1/4 per cent and that the state contribution be reduced from 11 per cent to 9.7.

The committee heads said their group felt that the proposal that constituted "nothing more" than an offer to accept our unconditional surrender. This we cannot do because such a move would undermine the financial stability of the Teacher Retirement System and inevitably result in a crisis in the Teacher Retirement System two years from now.

"The statement said the signers would 'oppose with all the vigor at our command' the governor's plan.

"We do not intend to be a party," the statement said, "to any movement which will put the teachers of the state in the position of begging each succeeding administration for the money required to pay retirement benefits. We are willing to rely on the good judgment of the members of the General Assembly."

A spokesman said the statement reflected the unanimous view of those attending a meeting which began Thursday night and ended early today.

House leadership for the AEA bill agreed to continue to push with all vigor for passage of their bill.

"I don't think the failure of this compromise hurt us," said Sevier postponed indefinitely in the Senate. It was scheduled as a special order of business Thursday.

The Senate adopted a resolution to have the state parks and publicity commission investigate the possibility of acquiring approximately 1,000 acres near Greers Ferry Dam for a state park.

The House defeated bills to appropriate $108,000 to pay for construction of voting booths and Sen.
Roy Milum's bill to provide $51-300 to give forest rangers an immediate raise.

House bills passed Thursday would:

Appropriate $200,000 for driver education in schools; permit marriage of a girl under legal age (16) if she is pregnant, providing her parents agree; add a registered engineer to the state Board of Health; build a state park at the junction of Monroe, Lee and Phillips counties, the beginning point of the Louisiana Purchase Survey of 1815, and create a Northwest
District Livestock Show in Boone County for Boone, Newton, Marion, Baxter, Searcy and Carroll counties.

Bills passed by the Senate
would:

Require first and second class cities to have liability insurance against damage caused by fire equipment; permit groups of physicians to incorporate and establish a state park at the Marks Mill Civil War battlefield in Cleveland County.

Bills introduced in the Senate
would:

Add more county roads to the state highway system (minimum of two miles in each county in each fiscal year); reduce state aid to school districts which reduce the percentage of local revenue for teachers' salaries; abolish the separate chancery courts
Jan. 1, 1965, impose an additional $5 annual fee on each beer retailer, and prohibit killing of mourning doves.

Planes Back in Air as Strikes End

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six major airlines began getting back into the air today after President Kennedy personally announced the end of a strike that crippled air travel for a week.

Flight engineers agreed to go back to work immediately while a presidential commission started work on finding a way of remedying the basic cause of their strike.

Kennedy made the announcement late Thursday at the White House. At his side was Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, who had a large part in bringing about the end of the walkout.

For Goldberg it was the second major strike he has had a personal hand in settling since he took office a month ago. His very first task was to end a strike of railroad ferrymen in New York City that had virtually cut off commuter rail service.

Six airlines — Pan American,
American, Trans World, Eastern, National, and Flying Tigers — began cranking up their operations Thursday night. All were resuming many flights today and expected to be back to normal by Saturday or Sunday.

Western Air Lines, one of those struck by the engineers, refused to join the agreement.

Western had announced it was firing its 130 flight engineers and hiring qualified pilots to replace them. This stand for a time held up agreement to end the walkout on the other lines, with the union insisting the Western engineers had to be reinstated first.

But Kennedy amended his order

County Rep. George W. Davis.

Pulaski County Rep. Harry Carter said, "The issues are exactly the same as they were."

'Spotlight on Hope' Will Be Featured Over Little Rock Radio Week of March 27

The city of Hope, its people and activities will be the subject of a series of "spotlight" features broadcast by KTHS Radio (1000
kc) throughout the week of Feb.
27.

The features, "KTHS Radio Spotlights Hope," will include tape recordings made in Hope Feb.
15 by three Radio staff men. The 26 features covering virtually every aspect of Hope community life will be scheduled and broadcast several times each day, Monday through Saturday. Each topic will be in segments of approximately two minutes each.

The KTHS Radio series will be similar to a television series that will be telecast on KTHV, Channel 11, during the week of Feb.

27.

"The KTHS series, as is the TV series, is being produced and broadcast as a public service in an effort to better inform Arkansians about the cities that make up our state," B. G. Robertson, general manager of both stations said. "Hope has an outstanding success story to tell and KTHS and KTHV hope to get that story across to as many listeners and viewers as possible."

The features will include tape recordings of Ed McCorkle, Calvin Caldwell, Mayor Frank Douglas, Miss Charlene Wiggins, B. N.
Holt, James Morrow, Garland Medders, Cecil Biddle, Mrs. Robert Herndon, John Gardner, Guy
Basye, James H. Jones, Brack
Schneck, Mrs. John Gibson, Mrs.
George Robinson, Dr. John Mc-Clanahan, Frank McLarty, John
Randolph and Charles Batson.

Also included will be on-the-spot recordings of sounds at the Hope Feed Mills, Hope High School,
Split Hickory Co., and the Bruner
Ivory Handle Co.

Subjects that will be featured include the early history of Hope,
the Friday Afternoon Music Club, Hope Brick Works, Bruner-Ivory

LINES TO A PARTY ACQUAINTANCE

by Janet Henry

The last time we met you we talked at great length
Of our daughter's high grades and our new baby's strength,
The athletic prowess of each of our boys,
And all of our children's politeness and poise;
And so, meeting now, it is rather bewildrin'
That you ask politely, "Have you any children?"

Hornee Greeley did not originate the phrase Go west, young man." It first appeared in an editorial by John B. L. Soule in the Terre Haute, Ind., Express in 1851. Greeley reprinted the editorial in his New York Tribune.

New '61 Chevy with Jet-smooth ride!

The '61 Chevy loves to go because it goes so well. Purrs along pavements like a happy tabby. Takes rough roads in stride and all roads in style.
Just why does a Jet-smooth Chevy treat riders as royally as the high-priced luxury cars? It all came about through a delightful blend of Full Coil suspension, precision-balanced wheels, unique chassis cushioning, and a superb Body by Fisher insulated to hush away road sounds. All this adds up to less sway, less bounce, less dip, less dive, less tilt, less noise, less... well you name it.
Now combine this Jet-smooth ride with conveniences to pamper you and roominess to relax in. Add a full measure of quiet good looks. Voila, you've got Chevy's formula.
And the proof is in the riding. When you sample a Jet-smooth Chevy at your Chevrolet dealer's we think you'll find it just to your taste.

Woman 85, Wants to Leave Prison

By TOM SHAWVER

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A little old lady with bright dark eyes and an unwrinkled face told the men on Michigan's State Parole Board why she wants to leave the prison that has been her home since 1933.

"I haven't very long left in this world," she said. "I would like to be free."

Elizabeth Ziolkowski, 85, is the oldest of some 400 women prisoners at the Detroit House of Correction. She was sentenced to life imprisonment 28 years ago after a jury convicted her of poisoning her third husband with arsenic.

The sentencing judge, in a statement, said it was thought that she murdered her spouse to collect his insurance. The judge, now dead, said there were indications that she killed her second husband the same way although she never was brought to trial for his death.

Mrs. Ziolkowski, a plump, pleasant-faced grandmother, said at her trial that she was innocent. She still says so.

She told her story to the parole board Thursday in hopes that Gov. John B. Swainson will commute her sentence, making her eligible for parole.

John Ziolkowski, 41 when he died, bought lead arsenic powder and used it in an attempt to heal sores on his body, she said. Some of it, she said, apparently got into his blood system.

"I didn't even know what it was," she said.

She said her second husband died of a heart attack after eight years of marriage. She and Ziolkowski, an auto plant worker, were married four years. She and her first husband were divorced. Only a son and daughter of her eight children are still living.

Ceremonies solemnized recently at the First Christian Church in Carlsbad, N. M., the wedding of Miss Laura Latorop, daughter of Mrs. Henry J. Latorop and the late Dr. Henry J. Latorop of Carlsbad, N. M. and Jimmy Dan Boyett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Boyett, of Carlsbad, N. M., formerly of Hope.

Mother Love Complicates Marriage

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I have a son who was called to the Army two weeks after he married. When he finished basic training he was shipped to another fort for advanced training. He expects to remain there two years.

His wife said she would go with him but seems to have changed her mind. He wants her so bad. She now works. He has been sending her $2 a month.

The other day he flew home on two weeks' leave. I had not seen him in four months. My daughter-in-law was peeved because we were there to meet him too. Yet we had given her the $140 or more she needed for him to make the trip.

I felt as tickled as she that he was coming. My son-in-law said it was a free world and if I wanted to see my son come home, it was up to me, not her. He and I went out with the rest of the crowd; she stood back in the lobby when the plane came in.

After I kissed my son, I told him his wife was inside. He thought she wasn't anxious to see him. My other son thinks she's nuts. Don't you think her place is with my boy and wouldn't you be at the airport if your son (whom you hadn't seen in four months) was coming home? —Mrs. G. P.

Dear Mrs. G. P.: In-laws are unpredictable for emotion, not reason, governs their actions. In your case you and your daughter-in-law were both at fault — she more than you. For the sake of the boy you two love, she should have buried the hatchet and gone out to the plane with you, particularly since you provided the money for her husband's trip.

On the other hand, if anyone was to remain in the background, it should have been you. When your son took the vows of marriage, he promised to forsake all others — for his wife. In the eyes of the church and the law, she comes first with him. The fact that she isn't living up to her end of the contract is not your business. For their and your own peace of mind, take a back seat. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Mothers-in-Law."

Dear Helen: Should a wife be expected to do the things her husband wants her to do when he does exactly the opposite? Is it fair for him to keep the truth back and let his wife learn the facts from neighbors?

Is there anything wrong in a man taking his secretary out to eat, then home? Why should he fear to tell an understanding wife?

I love my husband and want him to talk things out with me. I don't want him to admit doing them only after I learn the truth. —Wondering

Dear Wondering: Do what you believe to be right, regardless of what your husband does or says. He cavalier conduct should in no way sway yours.

The only wrong in inquiring his secretary is in not being frank about it. As a result you quite naturally suspect the worst.

Coming and Going Mrs. Louis Gabe of Gordon visited her sister, Mrs. K. G. Randall, Thursday.

Mrs. L. B. Tooley of Hope visited her sister, Mrs. J. C. Broyles, Thursday.

Mrs. Dorsey McKrae and Mrs. L. T. Lawrence served cake, squares, coffee and assorted tidbits. The serving table was overlaid with a white lace cloth trimmed with pink satin streamers and centered with an epergne holding candles and pink camellias.

Janet McKenzie Entertained Mrs. Dorsey McKrae had a morning coffee for bride-elect Miss Janet McKenzie Feb. 23. The guests were invited into the home by Mrs. Roy Stephenson.

For the informal gathering Miss McKenzie wore a beige ensemble. She and her mother were each presented a pink camellia corsage. The guests gave the bride-elect a gift of china in her chosen pattern.

Spring flowers were seen all through the home. In the dining room, the serving table, covered with a white cloth, was centered with a white arrangement of stock narcissus, carnations and hyacinths. The coffee was poured by Mrs. Bill Dugan, Jr. and Mrs. R. L. Branch assisted in serving dainty refreshments.

Other members of the house party were Mrs. William Hockett, Mrs. Dorsey McKrae, Jr., Mrs. J. C. Broyles and Mrs. Taylor Stuart. There were 20 guests present.

Miss Janet McKenzie Honored Mrs. J. W. Branch and Mrs. Sam Strong had an afternoon party Feb. 23 for Miss Janet McKenzie, bride-elect of Buddy Nix of Memphis, Tenn. The guest of honor wore a blue tulle dress and pink camellia corsages were given to her and her mother, Mrs. Jim McKenzie.

The hostesses presented Miss McKenzie a gift of silver in her chosen pattern. Many kinds of spring flowers graced the home. The 25 guests were invited into the dining room by Mrs. J. C. Broyles.

There, Mrs. Dorsey McKrae and Mrs. L. T. Lawrence served cake, squares, coffee and assorted tidbits. The serving table was overlaid with a white lace cloth trimmed with pink satin streamers and centered with an epergne holding candles and pink camellias.

UN Asks Aid From Belgium in Congo

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations disclosed today a new appeal to leftist leader Antoine Gizenga in Stanleyville against political revenge killings in the Congo.

The United Nations released a letter to Gizenga from Rajeshwar Dayal, Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld's special representative in the Congo, taking note of reports that 15 political prisoners in Stanleyville had been shot in revenge for the slaying of ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Hammarskjöld sought the help of Belgium in getting Belgian military personnel and political advisers out of the Congo. He sent a letter to Walter Lorrain, Belgian ambassador at the United Nations, containing suggestions from Hammarskjöld's Congo Advisory Committee.

The letter asked Belgium's aid in carrying out the Security Council's latest Congo resolution, urging immediate withdrawal from the Congo of "Belgian and other foreign" military men and political advisers not serving with the U.N. force and calling on all countries to prevent such personnel from going to the Congo.

It also empowered the United Nations to use force if needed to head off civil war in the Congo, called for an investigation of deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba's slaying and urged that the Congo Parliament be convened and Congolese troops reorganized and removed from politics.

Both Premier Joseph Ileo of the new central government in Leopoldville and President Moise Tshombe of Katanga Province decried the council resolution. But Tshombe cased his defiance somewhat Wednesday with an announcement that he and the U.N. command in Katanga had agreed to halt all troop movements "likely to lead to friction" between their respective forces.

Hammarskjöld's office had no confirmation of reports that Antoine Gizenga's Communist-backed regime in Stanleyville had executed 15 followers of President Joseph Kasavubu in retaliation for Lumumba's slaying.

As Hammarskjöld sought more troops to bolster his undermanned force in the Congo, Prime Minister Nehru told the Indian Parliament the new council resolution had "removed one barrier" to sending Indian troops to the Congo. But he said he would like to see further developments in the U.N. Congo policy before committing India to supply troops.

Declares No Money for Officers Club

PARIS (AP)—A spokesman at U. S. Army European Command (Eucom) headquarters said today no taxpayers' money had been earmarked for an expansion and remodeling job at its officers' club.

Too Early to Tell

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he thought it was still too early to assess the federal patronage program of President Kennedy.

Faubus was asked about speculation that he had not been consulted as much as he might have desired on appointments to federal jobs in Arkansas.

The site of Washington, D. C., as capital of the United States was chosen by George Washington.

balance of payments. Kennedy said he acted after receiving information about the club project from an unidentified woman.

Reports from Washington said the project was to have cost $200,000. Officials at Eucom refused to confirm or deny the figure.

A spokesman said the woman must have been acting on inaccurate information when she suggested part of the money for the improvement project was coming from government funds. Instead, he said, the project was to have been paid for from the $5 monthly dues paid by club members and from club profits, realized from sale of drinks and meals and slot machine profits.

The spokesman made these other points in answer to a reporter's question: Repair work on the club is necessary from a sanitary standpoint. The plumbing is leaking and there are holes in the ceiling and walls of the club.

The club is too small to accommodate the 376 dues-paying members from Eucom headquarters and the slightly more than 400 officers who use the club from the Seine area command. The club can accommodate about 300 persons at meals.

The only other facility for feeding officers at the base is a snack bar at the post exchange. He said that if the officers were forced to go off the base to nearby IH Germany to eat, the money would go into the French economy instead of being spent on the base.

That, he said, would increase the dollar drain.

The club is a one-story building with a small entrance way, a bar with several slot machines, an eating area and a kitchen.

Porkers Tangle With Baylor on Home Court

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas, led by a record scoring trio of Clyde Rhoden, Pat Foster and Ronnie Garner, pits its Southwest Conference basketball hopes against cellar-dwelling Baylor tonight.

The Razorbacks can't catch long-leaping Texas Tech, which can clinch the title by beating Texas Christian tonight. But they can get a shot at second place. Tonight's game has personal meaning for Rhoden and Garner. Rhoden needs only 50 points to become the second Porker eager to score more than 1,000 points in a three-year career. Garner now sixth in all-time scoring, can vault into fourth place with 17 more points.

Foster now ranks third in all-time figures with 825 and before the season ends the trio should rank two, three, four. Rhoden can't hope to take over the number one spot, held by George Kok with 1,195 points in 1946-48.

The three regulars already are the best scoring punch the Hogs have ever had. Together in their three years they have tallied 2,534 points in 68 games.

The race for second place in the standings could go right down the wire, Texas A&M and Texas, now tied with Arkansas for second, meet tonight in College Station. Should A&M win, it could make the Aggie-Hog battle March 2—the season's final game—decide second place.

After Baylor, Arkansas goes against SMU, a second division team, while A&M takes on Baylor. Should Texas win tonight, Arkansas still would have to win all remaining games to gain a second place tie.

Rhoden also has another personal mark to shoot for. He needs only four points to equal the three-year career scoring mark. Kok holds that with 637 points and Rhoden has 623. Kok played four years and that's how he amassed the 1,195 total career points.

Blue Devils Set to Earn NCAA Bid

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

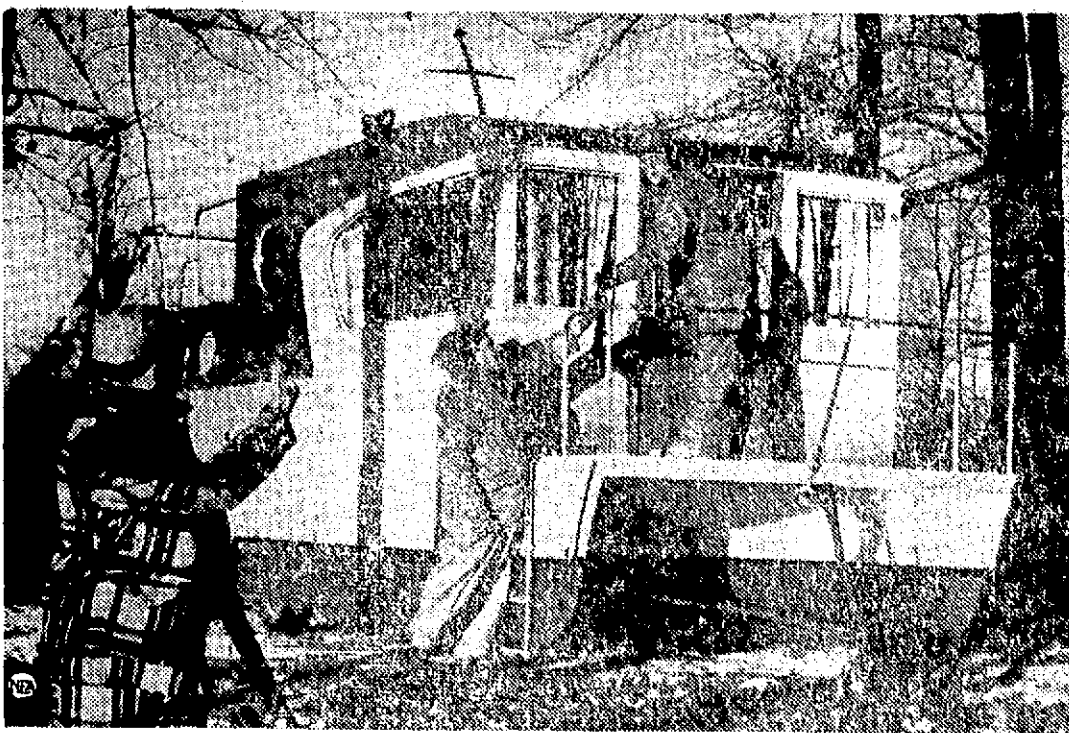

Take it from Coach Vic Bubas, Duke's Blue Devils are ready, confident and able to earn their crack at the NCAA basketball championship in the Atlantic Coast Conference title tournament next week.

And take it from the Madison Square Garden jury—Art Heyman, the Blue Devils' sophomore offensive wizard, is liable to take 'em there.

Heyman, the controversial 6-5 kid from Rockville Centre, N.Y., matched the Garden season single game record of 36 points Thursday night as Duke matched the season team record in a 112-78 rout of Seton Hall. It capped a tripleheader that also saw classy St. John (16-4) rout Marquette 85-69 and surging New York U. upset Wake Forest, 70-61.

The effort was labored "just what we needed" by Coach Bubas, whose Devils have been stuttering a bit since losing Heyman for their last three ACC games for his part in a fight during a North Carolina game earlier in the month.

This was the last game before the ACC tournament at Raleigh March 2-3-4 for Heyman, who hit 15 of 21 shots and added six of 10 free throws in matching the 36 points scored by Seton Hall's Hank Gunter at the Garden against St. Joseph's (Pa.) last Dec. 31 in the Holiday Festival. He'll sit out Duke's ACC regular WINTER ASHORE—SUMMER AFLOAT—This new Merri Mac houseboat, the latest in craft for living afloat, also can be adapted to dry land living in the winter. It has catamaran hulls, amphibious wheels and insulated topsides. Trailer hitch can be added.

DOGGONDEST DOGS—Pedigreed pooches, the likes of which you don't see every day, are commonplace at dog shows such as the annual affair of the Westminster Kennel Club in New York's Madison Square Garden. A prize example, left, is Silhou-Jette's Lil' Brick House, a Toy Poodle. At the right, eight-month-old Pamela Delich, of Smithtown, N.Y., is shown with a mound of hair, underneath which is a real, live camouflaged canine, an Old English Sheepdog named Prince Charming. season finale at North Carolina Saturday.

NYU, making a determined drive for an NIT berth despite a 10-9 record, beat bigger, heavier Wake Forest with top team defense, and the steady shooting of Al Ailardi (18 points), Ray Payrocky and Art Loche. Tony Jackson hit 28 points and Leroy Ellis added 26 as St. John's, which will play the ACC tournament winner in the NCAA eastern regional, won its fifth straight.

Second-ranked St. Bonaventure (21-1) boosted its winning streak to 12 and its home court string to 99 with a 99-57 rout of Siena as Tom Stith and Freddie Crawford each scored 27 points. Third-ranked Cincinnati (20-3) made Houston its 15th straight victim, 85-60.

Fourth-ranked Bradley (20-4) beat tough Wichita, 57-56 for its sixth straight.

Utah, leading the Skyline Conference, won its eighth straight 95-80 over Brigham Young. Providence thrashed Loyola (N.Y.) 85-70 for its 18th triumph against six defeats. Drake won its seventh straight 83-63 over North Texas State.

Holy Cross scored a 122-94 rout of Fairfield, and Virginia Tech nailed second place in the Southern Conference regular season chase with a 103-81 win over Furman.

Ken Rohloff's 22 points led North Carolina State over Villanova 78-65 despite a 34-point burst by Villanova's Hubie White.

Palmer Heads Field at Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Defending champion Arnold Palmer headed the field as 153 professionals and 17 amateurs prepared to tee off today in the $20,000 Baton Rouge Open golf tournament.

Golfers had one eye cocked to the sky, as they hoped there would be no repetition of rains that soaked a good part of the South—and the New Sherwood Forest Country Club—earlier in the week.

Venerable Sam Snead of Boca Raton, Fla., who set a tournament record of 275 in 1953, his last appearance here, heads a threesome that also includes Don Fairfield of Jacksonville, Ill., and Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif.

Palmer, who plays out of Miami, plays with Doug Ford of Crystal River, Fla., and Howie Johnson of Cog Hill, Ill., the 1959 winner.

Golfers reported a day of sunshine Thursday had left the 6,700-yard, par 72 course in good condition. They said the course was playing long but the greens were in good shape.

The tournament was shifted to the Sherwood course this year from the Baton Rouge Country Club where the previous nine tournaments were played.

Due to a one-day postponement in the start of the event because of the rain, the field will play its first round Friday and Saturday and wind up with 36 holes on Sunday.

Death Claims Star Tech Cage Player

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Death claimed Arkansas Tech basketball star J. P. Lovelady Thursday, 11 days after he was officially injured when his car struck a tree near here.

Dr. Arnold Henry said the 22-year-old senior student had been progressing satisfactorily until a blood clot suddenly formed in his lungs. Death came quickly.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lovelady of Dover, near here. Lovelady had been an all-state basketball star for Dover, and for the past two years was named to the all-Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference team.

This year he paced Tech to the AIC championship. His team leads an eight-man field in the Region 17 NAIA basketball tournament which begins at Pine Bluff Saturday.

Lovelady was a narrow-shouldered, slender, star athlete, and one of the team's high scorers. He ranked 10th in the conference in scoring this year.

Lovelady's car went out of control on Highway 124 and smashed into a tree Feb. 11. He suffered a punctured lung, broken ribs and other injuries, and was in critical condition for several days after the accident. The cause of the crash was not determined.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Spring Hill Independents Edge Out Ashdown

Spring Hill's Independent Basketball team journeyed to Ashdown for a game Wednesday night where they edged the Ashdown boys 60 to 59.

Wayne Lee was high man for the locals with 16. Stephenson had 14 and Townsend 13 points. Branch led the Ashdown Independents with 18 markers.

Bobcats Play 2 Key Games on Weekend

By Vince Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

The Hope Bobcats have two important conference games this weekend, the most important being with Fairview tonight. Presently Hope is tied with Fairview for second place in the district. If the Cats win tonight over the Cardinals and tomorrow night with Crossett, they will take second place district honors. But if Fairview also beats Smackover Saturday night, the Bobcats will be tied for first with the Bucks.

Jerry Churchill of Fairview still leads the scoring in the district with 200 points. It is certain the Bobcats will be Churchill-conscious tonight at Fairview. Bobcat Glen Calhoun has moved up to 6th place in the district with 141 points and Gene Robinson is tied for 7th with 134 points. Also in conference play Larry Arnel has 86 points, Eddie Fry has 60, and Curtis Churchill has 57.

About 50 students will be on buses going to the game tonight to boost the Bobcats. The Cats will need all the support they can get and hope many adult fans will follow them to Camden tonight. There will be a "B" game before the senior game in which the Hope B boys hope to finish their season with a 10-11 record.

The Bobcats will finish their regular season Saturday night with Crossett in the Jones Field House. If you haven't seen the Cats play much this year, be on hand for this final home game. The seventh and eighth grade teams will play at 6:15 p.m. on Saturday.

Reppo Ranks High in Scoring

LITTLE ROCK AP—Jim Reppo of Henderson, the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference's scoring champion, ranks 12th in scoring in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletic statistics. Reppo averaged 25.6 points in 17 games, scoring 435.

Freshman James Allen of Arkansas AM&N College is 4th with a 26.9 average on 511 points. Ken Saylor of Arkansas Tech is 14th with a 21.4 average on 382 points.

Saylor is 12th in field goal shooting with a .531 percentage. Don Scroggins of Ouachita is 20th with .546.

Reppo is 27th in free throw shooting with a .326 percentage.

Hendrix, which finished 9th in a 10-team AIC race, ranked 5th in NAIA team defense, allowing its opponents only 55.2 points per game.

Arkansas Tech, the AIC champion, was 20th in team offense with an average of 83.3 points per game. Tech was also 6th in winning margin, showing an 18.2 per game advantage over its opponents.

Fifty-seven general officers of the Union Army in the Civil War were born in Ohio. The list includes Lysses S. Grant and William T. Sherman.

Tonnemaker Makes All Dist. Team

By Vince Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

Miss Violet Tonnemaker, outstanding guard for the Hope Ladycats, was selected on the "All District" team in the district tournament played at Nashville last week.

A four year letterman for Hope, she has been a standout on the courts of this district since 1958. She is known as "The Hustling, good natured guard from Hope," who always takes winning seriously but also is a graceful loser. Violet plans to attend Ouachita Baptist College next fall.

Her coach, Mrs. Glenn Ballard, has this to say of Miss Tonnemaker, "Violet has the spirit and desire to win needed of a top ballplayer. She is an outstanding all around player and should certainly help the Tigerettes basketball team at Ouachita. She certainly deserves this honor."

Rules Commission Can Do Business

BLATHEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A Chancery Court judge Thursday dismissed a lawsuit aimed at barring members of the West Memphis Utility Commission from doing business with their own firms.

The suit was filed by Cecil Edmunds, former resident of West Memphis but now living in Little Rock.

Chancellor Gene Bradley ruled that the suit was not a class action but "merely a personal action from its inception."

Edmunds had been granted a temporary injunction previously by the same court.

Capt. Joseph W. Kittinger, Jr., of the U. S. Air Force holds the world's record for a manned balloon flight. He reached a height of 102,000 feet and then parachuted to earth.

Navy Official on Plane That Hits Water

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) - A disabled plane carrying Paul B. Fay Jr. to Washington to be sworn in as undersecretary of the Navy ran off the end of the runway at the municipal airport early today and plunged into a deep-water ship channel.

None of the eight persons on board the U.S. Navy twin-engine Convair was seriously injured. The New York to Washington flight was carrying Fay; his wife, Anita; his 4-year-old daughter, Sally; an aide, and a crew of four.

Fay was in New York Wednesday to inspect the burned-out aircraft carrier USS Constellation at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and to inspect the Third Navy District. The Convair left New York for Andrews Air Force Base, Md., but fog and rain prevented a landing.

While looking for a place to set down somewhat in Maryland or Delaware, the plane's electrical system failed.

Pilot Harry Patterson said Atlantic City's 3,000-foot long runway would have been long enough for the landing under normal conditions, but because of the power failure he couldn't reverse the propellers to slow the plane down.

The Convair plunged into the Great Thorefare 45 feet off Bader Field. It floated for five minutes, then sank halfway into the channel.

Ten minutes later, a police launch rescued the eight and took them to Atlantic City Hospital.

The aide, Cmdr. William A. Golden of Falls Church, Va., suffered a broken left ankle. The others were released.

Protestant Leaders Okay Birth Control

By GEORGE W. CORNELL Associated Press Religion Writer

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) - Representatives of the bulk of American Protestantism joined today in approving a widely used but religiously explosive practice - artificial birth control.

After extended discussion, the policy-making General Board of the National Council of Churches endorsed such methods as morally Christian, an adjunct to wholesome home life and an aid in world population problems.

The U. S. government was asked to supply birth control help to countries that ask it, a move previously shunned by Washington. The statement also deplored state laws restricting birth-control services.

Those laws "violate the civil and religious liberties of all citizens, including Protestants," the statement said.

It was the first collective Protestant pronouncement on the subject, although numerous individual denominations previously have taken similar action.

Eastern Orthodox churches, also members of the council, abstained from the vote by advance agreement. They traditionally have opposed contraception, as do Roman Catholics.

Dr. Harold Haas of New York City, a United Lutheran Social Welfare official, who presented the measure, said it sought to stress "the spiritual implications of marriage."

While upholding child-bearing as a "divinely ordained purpose" of marriage, it said the sustaining of mutual love between husband and wife, apart from reproduction, also was "ordained of God."

However, it added: "All agree that Christian marriage should be free from sensuality and selfish indulgence, and that mutually accepted periods of continence can be of value in a common life of Christian discipline."

But the statement said such periodic abstinence from intercourse "is not inherently superior from a moral point of view" in avoiding pregnancy, thus scientific means of birth control.

Dr. Hugo W. Thompson of St. Paul, Minn., stressed that the statement pointed up the spiritual responsibilities of marriage, in contrast to the widespread view of marriage as merely a "biological function."

The statement condemned abortion, except to save the mother's life, saying "the destruction of life already begun cannot be condoned as a method of family limitation."

Dr. Richard Egle, head of the World Council of Churches Commission on International Affairs, said that abortion had become a serious problem in America, with 70,000 to two million occurring annually.

BEAUTY WINNER—This stamp won out over 5,900 others in use around the world to be picked the most beautiful by a jury of artists and stamp collectors, assembled in Monte Carlo. First placed on sale in 1955, it carries a portrait of Queen Elizabeth and a view of Windsor Castle. It is printed in black and white.

DISPLACED PRINCESS—If life were a fairy tale, smiling little Princess Kyungwoo, 8, would live in splendor within an Oriental palace instead of the often hard world of reality in Janju-Ri, South Korea. She is the great-great-great-great-granddaughter of the Korean Princess Hwaryung, whose palace still exists. It lies close to the demilitarized zone where U.N. troops guard against the Communist North. Kyungwoo's father, Chang Young Park, was the last person to live in the elaborate and ancient mansion. He moved to a nearby village when the Korean war started. The door behind the little girl is marked with the Chinese script of the royal family.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE

By Henry Farrell Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assoc.

XXIX

There was a stranger in the house, someone perhaps who would save her. From below came the muted sound of laughter, this followed by the brief hiss of running water. The man laughed again, by himself. If she could only let him know that she was there, that she needed his help!

Thinking was actually painful to her; her mind seemed almost bruised with weariness. She breathed deeply, trying to concentrate upon the fresh air and the revitalizing effect it was having upon her responses. Still strong in her mind was the thought that it would be so much pleasanter just to forget everything, to give up the struggle and drift back into sleep - and death. There would be no more bother then, no more of this awful weariness; it would be over. But then there was a faint crash from below, as if a glass had been dropped and she was jarred into renewed alertness.

A crash. The thought came to her spontaneously, prompted by the sound; what she wanted to do was make a noise, knock something over, make a loud and startling crash. The kitchen was almost directly below.

The tray! Jane had brought her lunch into the room when she had arrived and found her at the window. She had put it down - she'd had a glimpse of it there - yes, on the nightstand. Within easy reach. If Jane had not remembered to take it away again ...

Rolling herself as best she could to the left, she felt for the table and the tray. The tray was there. It was there!

Almost instantly her hand found there. While looking for a place to set down somewhat in Maryland or Delaware, the plane's electrical system failed.

Pilot Harry Patterson said Atlantic City's 3,000-foot long runway would have been long enough for the landing under normal conditions, but because of the power failure he couldn't reverse the propellers to slow the plane down.

The Convair plunged into the Great Thorefare 45 feet off Bader Field. It floated for five minutes, then sank halfway into the channel.
